PENNSYLVANIANS HEAR PROFESSOR.

Wilson Addresses Crowds in Driving Rain.

Says Democrats Stick to Old Programme.

Declares Business Men Won't Cut Own Throats.

SCRANTON (Pa.) Sept. 23.—Through rainy Pennsylvania Gov. Woodrow Wilson rode today, campaigning as he went and addressing thousands of persons who crowded the wayside stations. He arrived here at 6:12 o'clock tonight and participated in an umbrella parade to the armory, where a big mass meeting was held.

From the moment the Democratic candidate crossed the State line there were umbrella-covered crowds to greet him.

NO ARTIFICIAL LIGHT.

It was getting toward dusk when the Governor reached Stroudsburg and as he leaned from the rail of the observation platform the brakeman removed a rear light.

"They know we don't need any artificial light," said the candidate amid laughter.

The interesting thing to the whole country is that the great State of Pennsylvania is now showing a marked inclination to turn away from the party that has satisfied the people and entrusted its confidence to the party that is now seeking a new set of policies. The Republicans are not even satisfied themselves.

"I like to talk to it," he said.

"Because I belong to another family and it seems to me indecent to talk about the affairs of a family I do not belong to."

FAMILY TROUBLE.

"But evidently there is some family trouble, and some part of the family has a more tender conscience than the other, and the party that has a harder conscience does not really know what it wants to do with it. But those of us who for sixteen years have seen exactly what was coming in the year 1912, have no doubt where we are bound for. I would yet like to say that the Democratic party has had substantially its present programme of returning the government to the people for more than sixteen years."

"We are not doing anything new in the year 1912. What has happened is that the people are beginning to see that after all we were willing to stay out of power on the conviction that the day was coming when upon our own platform we could serve the interests of the people of the United States."

"Now, we believe there isn't any part of the country where the business interests are better understood than in Pennsylvania. It is natural to voters in the United States are Democrats and you don't suppose that inasmuch as Democrats are engaged in every kind of enterprise they are going to cut their own throat."

"One of the papers in Philadelphia said very wittily the other day that if the Democrats committed economic murder on the industries of the country they would also commit economic suicide."

NEW JERSEY FOR TAFT.

President's Managers Say He Will Carry Woodrow Wilson's Home State.

(By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times)

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 23.—[Special Dispatch.] Republican leaders in Chicago, following a conference with Charles D. Hiles, chairman of the National Committee, today declared that "President Taft cannot possibly lose more than two Atlantic Coast States, from Maine to the District of Columbia."

The two States that he probably lost cast a combined electoral vote of less than ten, and they are given specific attention at this time, the leaders say.

The estimate of Taft strength in the West, based on the available, include the State of New Jersey, which is the home of Gov. Woodrow Wilson, in the Taft column.

The Taft management today received a report from a trained observer on conditions west of the Mississippi, and that report stated emphatically that Col. Roosevelt cannot carry a State in that territory. The representative of the committee followed Roosevelt's complete itinerary throughout the West.

BAY STATE POLITICS.

JOINT PRIMARIES TODAY.

(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Republicans and Democrats of Massachusetts will hold joint primaries tomorrow to select candidates for the November elections. These two parties are the only ones officially recognized by the State, but other parties can obtain places on the ballot by petition. Interest centers in the dual contest for Governor in both parties. Gov. Eugene N. Foss is opposed by District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier of Boston and the Democratic party. In the Republican ranks former Speaker Joseph Walker and Col. Everett C. Benton are candidates.

Honesty the Best Policy.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—[By A. P. Day Wire.] The resignation of Theodore Roosevelt as a member of the Republican Club of the City of New York has been accepted.

ON Finance Committee.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—[By A. P. Day Wire.] Hugh C. Wallace of Washington State has been appointed second vice-chairman of the Finance Committee of the Democratic National Committee.

Widow of Agricultural Society Pa

Fair Grounds.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As a monument to the late Frank Burke, for eight years a member of the State Agricultural Society, his widow, now living in San Jose, is to erect a coliseum at the State Fair grounds in this city. According to the former pair, and friend of the California State fair, $100,000 has been set aside for her purpose.

Senator B. F. Bush and Charles

W. Paine, directors of the society and warm friends of the State director, have been instructed by Mrs. Burke to have plans prepared for the building and as soon as the necessary permit is granted by the State, building operations will begin. It is to be a steel and concrete structure with a glass roof. For fifty years Frank Burke never attended the State Fair, but for a number of years an exhibitor at the fair, his exhibits of blooded horses and Holstein cows taking many blue ribbons.

FISHER'S VIEW IS SUSTAINED.

Religious Garb Barred from the Indian Schools.

But Teachers Now Employed Are Not Affected.

Equities in Case Determined by the President.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Secretary Fisher's action last January in revoking the order of former Indian Commissioner Valentine, barring teachers of Indians from government Indian schools, was upheld by President Taft, in an order made public today.

The decision of the President is that teachers now employed in Indian schools may continue to wear the garb of their religious orders; but the privilege is denied to any persons hereafter entering the service.

This ruling will enable the government to fulfil its obligations, the President says, to the teachers who were taken into the government service when religious schools were taken over bodily as government institutions.

FINAL STEP.

The President's ruling is the final step in a controversy that has engaged the Interior Department with religious bodies more than a year.

Commissioner Valentine's order would have prohibited any teacher from wearing religious garb in the Indian schools after the end of the last school year.

President Taft's order, and a letter from Secretary Fisher to Mr. Valentine, which accompanied it, lay stress on the fact that Valentine issued his ruling without consulting the Secretary or the President; and while the entire subject was under investigation, Mr. Fisher's revocation of the order is now made final.

FISHER'S LETTER.

Secretary Fisher's formal letter states that the government had long left the education of the Indians to religious missionaries; and that when it finally began a systematic handling of the educational problem, it took over many of the religious schools and brought their teachers into the government's passive service.

These transfers have been effected by the government's renting denominational schools and taking over the whole plant and the teachers as well," said President Taft.

"To appear that we have 2,000 teachers in Indian schools there are fifty-one who wear a religious garb and who are regularly classified members of the government civil service. To direct them to give up their religious garb is needless, and it would be their leaving the service because of their views under the service because of the garb."

NO LEGAL PROHIBITION.

Secretary Fisher holds there is no legal prohibition against the employment of government teachers who wear religious dress; and that opinion is endorsed by the President. It is pointed out that sectarian religious instruction is not given in any of the schools now under government control.

HOW PRACTICE ORIGINATED.

The Secretary continues: "The practice of permitting teachers in the Indian schools to wear a distinctive religious garb when on duty arose naturally out of the conditions under which these schools were first established and have later been taken over by the government. The original adoption of this practice, however, was due to the more fundamental errors which the nation made in neglecting the Indians not only with respect to education but in most other respects. Nevertheless, the action thus taken has been repeated and has courts because of the inattention of

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tonight's weather map shows slightly higher temperatures throughout the Middle West and Northwest, but the nights continue cold with plenty of frost west of the Mississippi. Chicago enjoyed another perfect day, but rain is promised for tomorrow, followed by colder weather, but not cold enough to produce frost. An east wind at eight miles an hour brought cool breezes of the lake all day. The maximum temperature today was 70 deg. and the minimum 57 deg. or three deg. warmer than Cincinnati. AUTO TIRES FROM WHISKY.

BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Emperor William of Germany rides in an automobile, the tires of which are made created equities which should now be respected so far as they can be represented by the legal rights of the interests of the Indians. These interests will not, in my judgement, be best promoted by abruptly and drastically separating from the Indian service teachers whom the Indians have been taught to respect and merely because these teachers have been taught that the Indians have been taught to respect. The real object to be attained is the elimination of sectarian religious teaching from the Indian schools.

The object of the Indian schools is to teach the Indian and not to convert him to sectarianism. The teaching I do not think that this is true in any accurate use of the word 'teaching.' What is really meant is that the wearing of the garb exerts an influence upon the Indian and that the particular religious creed or system of its wearers, and I believe the natural tendency to take advantage of the influence thus acquired in a distinctly sectarian fashion, and the distinction between Indian and non-Indian is sufficient reason for providing against the extension of the practice and for its gradual but certain elimination. It is to the interest of the Indians that, as promptly as possible, the law be passed which would make it impossible for the practice shall be removed from the Indian schools. This is the only way to avoid arousing the resentment which the past practice of the government has made a natural result of abrupt or drastic action at this time upon this subject, even if the mistakes have not been all upon the part of the government and do not, in fact, justify such resentment.

The decision of the President is that teachers now employed in Indian schools may continue to wear the garb of their religious orders; but the privilege is denied to any persons hereafter entering the service.

This ruling will enable the government to fulfil its obligations, the President says, to the teachers who were taken into the government service when religious schools were taken over bodily as government institutions.

Government Experts Ridicule Statement Made by Nicaraguan That Panama Canal Will Be Failure.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Government engineers familiar with the work on the Panama Canal do not regard seriously the opinion expressed by Henry Lovering, Nicaraguan mining engineer, who is quoted as saying vessels never will pass through the canal. Mr. Lovering is in the service of the American United States Consul at Niagara Falls, quoted also as saying "They have never struck bottom in the Culebra Cut, and it is doubtful if they ever will."

The fact that the work is going steadily forward on the canal and that it is now planned to open it for traffic earlier than at first was deemed possible caused the best refutation of Mr. Lovering's statement, said Maj. S. J. Boggs, chief of office of the Isthmian Canal Commission, today.

Acting Secretary of War Asks Governors to Co-operate in Introducing Gun Practice in Schools.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—[Special Dispatch.] Acting Secretary of War Robert Shaw Oliver has addressed a communication to the Governors of the States soliciting their co-operation with the plans of the national board in introducing and promoting rifle practice in the public schools throughout the country. Gen. Oliver's suggestion that this work be carried on by the rifle department of the National Guard of the several States and suggests that officers of this department be invited to volunteer to help organize and conduct as instructed at the rifle ranges.

It is believed the throwing open of the National Guard armory ranges to the school boys will result in securing many recruits for the National Guard.

PIANO MAKERS' STRIKE.

Nearly Three Thousand Men Quit Their Jobs in the City of New York and Demand Wage Increase.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Nearly 3000, or about a third, of the piano makers in the city, according to their representatives, struck today to enforce demands for a 15 per cent. increase in wages. Some houses were forced to stand idle.

Members of the Piano Manufacturers' Association said the strike was not important enough to call for action.

The rumor of a large body of deputies approaching the city dismayed the men. One was wounded.

Wilkesbarre Man Gives Up Study of the Law to Wed a Santa Monica Heiress.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WILKESBARRE (Pa.) Sept. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Instead of going back to the study of law at Fordham College, John J. Brennan of this city, has gone West to become the husband on Wednesday of this week of Miss Arcadia Bandina Scott of Santa Monica, Cal., a rich heiress.

Miss Bandina, 21, was a daughter of James A. Scott, a wealthy manufacturer of Cincinnati, said it is better for the home to be broken up and the children placed in a charitable institution.

She urged that widows be pensioned by the State and allowed to care for their own children, as half a dozen states already are doing.

Miss Bandina, executive officer and secretary of the Massachusetts Probation Commission, said forty States now have systems of probation for children, while ten years ago only six States had such measures.

He urged State aid for such work and said many children are in Juvenile Detention.

Nevertheless, the action thus far taken has been repeated and has courts because of the inattention of

CENSORSHIP LAW.

President Asks for Meaning of Words "Paid Subscribers" as Used in Newspaper Statute.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—President Taft has referred the recently-enacted newspaper publicity law to Atty. Gen. Smith, who is to determine what construction is to be placed by the Postmaster-General upon the term "paid subscribers" and as to whether the law is to apply to publications circulated otherwise than through the United States mails.

The reference of these questions will not, in my judgement, be best promoted by abruptly and drastically separating from the Indian service teachers whom the Indians have been taught to respect and merely because these teachers have been taught that the Indians have been taught to respect.

The real object to be attained is the elimination of sectarian religious teaching from the Indian schools.

WASHINGTON OF CHINA ADDRESSES AMERICANS.

Relations Between Himself and the President of the New Oriental Republic Are Eminently Cordial and Friendly—Corrects Some Misstatements Which He Says Have Appeared in the English Press.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WANKING, Aug. 27 (via San Francisco, Sept. 23).—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sensational reports were recently cabled to England and reproduced in the American press of the mysterious disappearance of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, former Provisional President of the Chinese Republic. The report was that he had quitted with the President of China and that he had been put to death by a band of assassins. Dr. Sun promptly stamped these rumors as unfounded and was an enemy of China, and to the correspondent of the New York Sun he gave the following carefully-prepared interview, which in reality is the address to the American people:

DR. YUAN'S ADDRESS.

"To friends of China in the United States of America:—While I am not compelled to speak of Chinese affairs and can in no direct sense be mouthpiece for the government of the republic, I feel that it is my bounden duty to speak quite fully regarding matters in China and that I am deeply concerned in that and that mutual misunderstandings prejudicial to interests of my country may be cleared."

"Perhaps I would not feel that justification were sufficient for that but in American and British journals many misstatements of the fact, particularly regarding my own relations with the head and heads of the Chinese government, of certain individuals in my countrymen."

"Relations between President Yuan and myself are personally very cordial. It is true that we do not agree upon all matters of public policy, but our differences are those which the world expects to find among its public men."

"During my visit to President Yuan in June, I told him very frankly my ideas upon many important matters. We discussed at length the power loan and the terms upon which it should be made and accepted."

"At that time President Yuan gave out very complete statements of his views on many of these questions, and while he expressed some of my views, they embodied very largely my own views on various topics. Almost to the last word of that statement my own views were in accord with those of the President."

"I wish to go on record once and for all as saying that in spite of efforts past or future to misrepresent me in the Chinese republic, there will be no war in our country. China has been credited with having been a 'sleeping nation' for centuries, and in a certain sense the phrase has been correctly applied. But our enemies must not count on confidently upon China's sleep."

"We understand to well there are certain men of power—not to include for the present certain nations—who would view with greater or lesser satisfaction an internal rupture in the new republic. This would welcome those toward the accomplishment of their own ends and designs a civil war between the provinces of the North and South."

"However, the foreign ill-wishers may as well understand first as last—perhaps better now—that the men who are to rule the new China are a unit for the republic as established, and can not be brought, individually or in factions, to oppose the onward march of the Chinese nation. Neither flattery, fear, intrigue nor gold has power to make the leaders of the new China, nor any of them, turn back the hopes, wishes and aspirations of our people."

"Let not one word which I have uttered be construed as being even remotely a hint that the China of the new order is opposed to foreigners or to legitimate outside interests in the country's welfare. The view opposite is the case, for we welcome missionaries, men of trade, and scientists of other nations."

"Perhaps it is almost superfluous for me to say that the most pressing need of China today is the establishment upon a sound financial basis. 'Alarmists' have said that the proposed loan has not been quickly negotiated that the republic was in dire danger of collapse. There is not a shadow of reason for this assertion."

"I wish to speak briefly now about another matter. My name is being drawn to be the mobilization of a sensational cable in England to the effect that myself and my followers were, insisting—under the veiled threat of a civil war—that the capital be moved from Peking to the adjacent seat of government, Nanking, or Frankfort, and avowedly I am in favor of a more central location for the capital, believing that Peking is too remote from the large centers of population. And it is because of this that I have advocated change—not because I feared in its present site it would be more likely to capture by the Japanese."

"The President, his Cabinet and National Assembly are determined that these properties shall not pass from the control of their rightful owners, the men of the soil. Concessions and leases will be granted, and have in some instances already been made and granted, but the title shall not pass from the treasury."

"I wish to speak briefly now about another matter. And it is because of this that I have advocated change—not because I feared in its present site it would be more likely to capture by the Japanese."

"My recent visit to Peking was not made for the purpose of stirring up trouble or discord. It was, on the other hand, to assure President Yuan that many say attributed to me were not only untrue but without slightest foundation in fact. I have not only confidence in his loyalty and ability and believe him worthy of the firmest support, but I pledge myself to devote my best and every effort to aid him in the great and noble work he has undertaken."

CHINESE LOAN OFFERED IN LONDON.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.] LONDON, Sept. 23.—Half of the Chinese loan of $50,000,000 is to be offered in London for subscription on

Gen. Campa

Of the Mexican rebel forces who was captured yesterday by the United States authorities, according to a dispatch from "The Times." Gen. Campa, former correspondent of the London Times in Peking, and now political adviser to the President of the Chinese Republic. He spent a month in London conferring with financiers and bankers as the result of newspaper attacks which accused it of being a monopoly. The issue of the independent loan is largely due to a demand for reparation by the Chinese government that the proceeds of the loan shall be used for the repayment of existing loans for the reorganization of the government and for productive works.

The contract between the Chinese government and the financiers provides that the proceeds of the loan shall be used for the repayment of existing loans for the reorganization of the government and for productive works.

The loan is redeemable in forty years and repayment of the principal is to be made in the eleventh year and by yearly amortization in half-yearly payments. China, however, may redeem the loan at the end of fifteen years on payment of 2½ per cent. premium, the $100,000 being paid and after twenty-five years without payment of premium.

Provision is made to prevent the impairment of the security by the loan being used for productive works.

There is no clause releasing either the government or the banks from the performance of the contract in the event of any government assuming an attitude of disapproval toward the transaction.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

SOCIALISTS ARE STOPPED.

Pasadena Will Have None of Their Harangues.

Ten-Thousand-Dollar Playhouse Is Now Proposed.

Wheels of Justice Run Like a Gas Meter.

Office of The Times, 888 Fair Oaks ave., PASADENA, Sept. 24.—Although no action was taken, the City Commissioners at yesterday's session decided to stand firm in their determination not to allow the Socialists, or any others, to hold meetings in the city parks on Sundays. However, they have practically come to the conclusion that they will open Carmelita Playground for this purpose.

Commissioner May suggested that when the proposed purchase of the playground property by the city is submitted to the City Council, an election to be called next spring an extra sum of probably $10,000 be added to the projected bond issue to provide for the erection of a pavilion for use by the children on stormy days through the week, and such organizations as desire to hold meetings share evenings and Sundays. The idea was received with favor by the other commissioners.

With another suggestion that May throw out, namely, that band concerts be given up this coming winter and the appropriation that has been made for them applied to the purchase of a bandstand, the City Council may put up at once. The other commissioners are decidedly not in favor of abandoning the concerts.

Members of the Playground Committee did not like the matter, but they will probably favor anything that will cause a building to be erected on the playgrounds, as they have long urged that a suitable structure be put up, in which the children may have games and indoor basketball when the weather is inclement.

Two other important matters to come to the attention of the commissioners yesterday were the proposed new traffic ordinances and a proposal made by Park Superintendent Albrecht that a stock of about 5000 trees, set out on the city farm, where there was formerly a government experiment station, be purchased.

As to the traffic ordinances, the commissioners and Councilmen will probably come to an agreement over what the provisions shall be in another week's time. Present discussions are that there will be no law that will require drivers to be compelled to keep close to the curb and the center of the streets be left clear for automobiles.

Nothing definite has yet been determined about the trees. Mayor Thum said last night that they belong to the city, anyway, and that their purchase will amount to nothing more than a transference of money from one municipal fund to another.

QUICK ARREST.

The wheels of justice moved quickly yesterday.

In the afternoon George W. Blommer of No. 400 South Mareno avenue, telephoned to Police Sgt. Bristol that his automobile had been stolen. Bristol at once communicated with the Los Angeles police, and five minutes later received a reply from them that they had the car and the man who had taken it, Henry R. Foster.

A little while afterward Detective Schults had brought Foster back to Pasadena and a complaint had been sworn to before Justice of the Peace Dunham, and a warrant issued.

Foster was locked up in the Pasadena City Jail. He will be arraigned before Justice Dunham this morning.

CARMELITA ARRAIGNED.

E. L. Lathrop and J. N. Johnson, conductor and motorman of a Pasadena Short Line Pacific Electric car, who were arrested last Saturday night on a charge of having beaten a passenger who persisted in trying to stop the car at a point where the schedule did not permit a stop, were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Dunham yesterday morning. The man upon whom the alleged attack was made, whose identity the local police had not been able to learn, appeared in court. He is C. W. Moore of Los Angeles, an employee of the auditing department of the San Joaquin Railroad, and has remained at R. T. Turnbull's office in the High School, to assist in the prosecution.

The railway company apparently will defend the case for the carmen whose bail yesterday was lowered to $100 for the motorman and $50 for the conductor. The men asked for a jury trial, which will be set next Saturday.

ATTENDANCE IS LARGE.

The opening day of the public schools here yesterday showed large gains in attendance yesterday. At the High School the enrollment was 2100 pupils. Full periods of study were held.

R. Clayton Biggins, the new instructor in athletics at the High School, arrived yesterday. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and recently was instructor in athletics in the Central High School at Cleveland, O.

The attendance figures for the grammar schools follow:

Altadena school, 92 pupils; Cleveland, 149; Columbia, 262; Franklin, 200; Glendale, 239; Highland, 184; Lincoln, 356; Linda Vista, 30; Longfellow, 201; Madison, 415; McKinley, 386; Roosevelt, 215; Titusville, 17; Washington, 430, and Wilshire, 226.

WILL HASTEN ACTION.

The Board of Trade yesterday received a communication from Congressman William D. Cragin of Washington stating that the matter of the erection of a federal building here is now before the Treasury Department and that he is doing his utmost to secure quick action. Considerable time, however, he says will be required to bring the issue to a head.

The Board of Trade recently asked him to hurry the issue if possible.

WELL-KNOWN WOMAN DIES.

Mrs. Lucy Burton Powers, who had lived in Pasadena for eleven years, and who was formerly president of the Children's Study Circle of the Roosevelt School, died yesterday at her home, No. 8 West Wilshire street, after a long illness. She was 80 years of age and a native of the State.

She leaves a widower, Fremont Powers, and a son and daughter. Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon at the chapel of Ives Warren. Rev. R. E. Bright of Los Angeles will officiate.

CITY BRIEFS.

The new auto fire engine is expected by Chief Clifford of the fire department to arrive from the East sometime this week. It is to be sent from San Francisco by boat and will be brought from San Pedro to Pasadena with its own power.

Police Judge McDonald yesterday disposed of four cases. Most of the defendants were automobile and motorcycle speeders.

Mrs. Hester T. Grinn of Los Angeles, president of the California Women's Christian Temperance Union, will speak at a meeting of the Washington Heights union, to be held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Margaret Wyllie, No. 2138 North Mar Vista.

The little children of the Pasadena Day Nursery and some of their mothers, who have been at Manhattan Beach for a month's vacation, will return home today.

Mayor Thum recently inspected the work that has been done on the Colorado street $200,000 bridge across the Arroyo Seco, now in course of construction. They are well-satisfied with the progress that has been made.

POMONA, Sept. 23.—The local Lodge Brotherhood of American Yachtmen held an important meeting in the quarters of Odd Fellows hall this evening at which time committees were appointed to arrange for the visit here on the evening of September 30 of Judge M. A. Roberts of Ottumwa, Iowa, president of the supreme board of directors of the order, and Harry E. Evans of Des Moines, who will speak at the visit.

A reception will be given to the visitors, which will probably be a public affair. There will be addressed by the guests of honor and a fancy drill by the women's drill team of the Pomona Homestead.

UNIQUE BUILDING PLAN.

U. M. Thomas, who formerly resided on East Holt avenue here and owned several orange groves, is planning a building project on two eighty-foot lots at a point where the schedule did not permit a stop, were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Dunham yesterday morning. The man upon whom the alleged attack was made, whose identity the local police had not been able to learn, appeared in court.

He is C. W. Moore of Los Angeles, an employee of the auditing department of the San Joaquin Railroad, and has remained at R. T. Turnbull's office in the High School, to assist in the prosecution.

The railway company apparently will defend the case for the carmen whose bail yesterday was lowered to $100 for the motorman and $50 for the conductor. The men asked for a jury trial, which will be set next Saturday.

ATTENDANCE IS LARGE.

The opening day of the public schools here yesterday showed large gains in attendance yesterday. At the High School the enrollment was 2100 pupils. Full periods of study were held.

R. Clayton Biggins, the new instructor in athletics at the High School, arrived yesterday. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and recently was instructor in athletics in the Central High School at Cleveland, O.

RAILROAD EJECTED.

Strip of Land Given Back to Owners When Supreme Court Confirms Finding of Abandonment.

A strip of 1320 feet of land thirty feet wide on Western avenue near First street, valued at $60,000, was involved in an important decision against the Los Angeles Pacific company rendered by the Supreme Court.

The plaintiff in the action, which was appealed from the decision of Superior Court Judge James, is the Home Real Estate Company, and the Title Insurance and Trust Company is joint defendant with the railway company.

The action was brought to recover possession of the strip of land by process of ejectment. The plaintiff was the beneficial owner of a fee in the property, and the Los Angeles Pacific company claimed possession of the strip as a right of way for railroad purposes.

On March 9, 1887, a number of persons entered into an agreement with James McLaughlin, the predecessor of the railway company, the owner of a steam dummy railroad, to have the line extended beyond the city limits to the territory in which their lands were located.

McLaughlin constructed the extension in January, 1888, and operated it about five years. Then he abandoned it and in 1893 the Los Angeles Pacific company, claiming to have succeeded to his rights, constructed a roadbed over the property, laid ties and rails, erected poles and wires to operate electric cars over the line.

The plaintiff claimed that McLaughlin had abandoned the line by not operating cars over it for six months, as required by law, but the Los Angeles Pacific company denied the abandonment. The decision of the Supreme Court restored the thirty-foot strip to the original owners who gave the right of way to McLaughlin, for the construction of the extension of his line.

UNSUCCESSFUL SEARCH.

Immigration Inspector Connell reported yesterday that special officers sent to search along the coast in search of the Southern Pacific launch whose crew is believed to have raided the Union Oil Works at Santa Barbara and stolen a large quantity of oil, have returned with no tidings of the craft. Santa Cruz, Coronado and other harbor points were visited.

Holtville Men on Ocean-to-Ocean Road.

They'll Put Up Cash and Put in Work.

To Open It to Yuma for the Auto Race.

Twenty-five of the good roads enthusiasts from the Imperial Valley, led by Philip Brooks of Holtville, were in Los Angeles yesterday primed for action on the ocean-to-ocean highway. With an offer of $5000 to the national highway fund, and a promise to put the road from Holtville to Yuma in shape for the Los Angeles-Phoenix road race, they called on John S. Mitchell, president of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association with a definite demand.

This plan embraces the opening of the road from Holtville through the sands to Ogilby, on the Southern Pacific Railroad. Their idea is that the highway should be built through Holtville to Brawley and thence across the sand dunes to the railroad tracks, avoiding the Mammoth Wash. They propose to put twenty-five teams at work this morning on the road, and agree that it will be in shape for the desert race in three weeks.

President Mitchell listened to the plan and was more than willing to help in the big undertaking. He told them he could not raise the money needed, but could make it built by way of Holtville if a good route out of the valley could be found. Brooks and his cohort of enthusiasts expressed themselves pleased with the reception in this city, and agreed to work with the Los Angeles association on the project of a road from here to Yuma via the San Geronimo Pass.

"There is no reason why we should not succeed with these good good-roads men," said President Mitchell. "Let us just have as many roads as possible. We are more than glad to co-operate in this proposition to put a highway through from here to Ogilby, and, under certain stipulations, that the road be built to shape for practice starts before the Los Angeles-Phoenix race.

ROUTE'S CHOSEN.

The route for the ocean-to-ocean highway has been chosen. We have decided on the Banning route by way of Palm Springs, Indio, Mecca and Brawley. Now if we can be shown a more easy route through the mountains, who all the better, and we will only be too glad to touch as many towns as possible. I'm out and out for good roads work and they can't start too soon to suit me. They tell me that twenty-five teams, and men and horses, will be moving, will be started at once.

"There is room for everybody. Much is being accomplished. With these men coming up to us from the Imperial Valley we realize that it is necessary for us to get busy at once and when we are built up, we will be in the valley to give those farmers a market where they can send their produce and where they will be in close and constant communication with this city. The more roads built the better I will be pleased."

This plan was expressed to the men from the valley town met with favor and each returned last night with determination to build the section of the great highway just as soon as possible, beginning this morning.

H. M. Haldeman, who has charge of raising the $100,000 toward the national highway fund, said he sees no reason why the road should not be built by way of Holtville. He reports every business man who has been approached on the subject as having been in favor of the project and says each is ready to contribute. He says every cent will be raised in time to keep the teams and men working on the California end of the transcontinental highway until it is open from Yuma to Banning.

POTTER TO REPORT.

Members of the Los Angeles Auxiliary of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association and friends will have a luncheon at the Athletic Club to-morrow noon. Potter, who made the trip across the continent in The Times special, will be a guest and will report on what is being done in Arizona and New Mexico after the dinner Potter will be for the good roads convention at Atlantic City.

The annual convention of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association, which was to have been held October 23, will be postponed to November 13. President Mitchell will make the arrangements for the new date and will provide for the appointment of delegates to the conference where officers for the new year will be chosen.

HIGH COURT SETTLES IT.

Dispute Over Property Known as "The Flower-street Flat" Runs the Gauntlet of the Law.

Jesse W. Taylor of Glendale has lost her appeal to the Supreme Court in the case against Grace Morris, Celia Morris, Ethel Morris, W. A. Snedaker (administrator of the estate of Zerelda Wheeler) and Helen G. Morris, her guardian. Frank K. Kalem, holding her rights to what is known as "The Flower-street Flat," in this city.

Former Superior Judge Harvey found that the heirs of the late Zerelda Wheeler were entitled to a two-thirds interest in the property, amounting to $20,305.90, which opinion has been affirmed by the higher court.

It was alleged that Zerelda Wheeler in her lifetime gave her daughter Jessie in trust $3000 which the latter used to purchase the Flower-street property, one of the pieces involved in the action. The Flower-street flats were purchased February 7, 1902, by Mrs. Taylor for $12,000, $1000 of the amount received from her mother. Afterward it was sold for $26,000.

Mrs. Taylor denied that the money had been received from her mother in trust and she interposed the plea of the statute of limitation.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Harbor Advisory Board considered pre-consolidation pledges still unfulfilled, yesterday, and discussed needs for more money for harbor development. A general statement of outlay necessary at the Huntington concession was made by the City Engineer, who places the figures at $1,115,738. The Public Works Board was instructed to pay into the Superior Court money for the condemnation awards for Timms' Point.

Fifty-six claims filed for return of assessments in connection with the opening of Twelfth street were deferred to the Board of Public Works for consideration. The city portion of the paving of the Pacific Avenue route proposed by City Attorney Hewitt, in an outline for the plan of improving this street, were referred to the Board of Public Works for consideration. The city portion of the paving of the Pacific Avenue route is to be $25,000, provided certain conditions are met by the property owners.

Approvals Approved.

The Fire Commission yesterday approved the application by Fire Chief Elmer O. Allen, Jr., Robert McNeese as fireman from the certified list of the Civil Service Commission.

Would Keep Street Intact.

A largely-signed petition of property owners on Wilshire street, between Avenue 22 and Main, was filed yesterday for presentation to the City Council today, asking that the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation be not allowed to lay in the street a gas line of a seventeen-inch gas main. The petitioners state that they have just had the street paved, for which they have been assessed heavily, and they strenuously object to its being torn up immediately for the purpose of laying gas mains, which could have been placed before the paving was done.

Fifty-Six Claims Filed.

Unfulfilled pre-consolidation pledges bobbed up at the meeting of the Harbor Advisory Board yesterday to distract officials at the City Hall. When Los Angeles went avowing San Pedro consolidation pledges were made that $2,000,000 would be expended in harbor development at once, or as soon after consolidation as it could be brought about, and $2,000,000 in like work within two years.

Three years have elapsed and the pledges have not been kept. Of course, there are extenuating circumstances, but the fact remains that the harbor development work is in a state where there appears little prospect of completion in time for the beginning of commerce through the Panama Canal unless extra funds are provided.

In fact, the Mayor stated at yesterday's meeting of the Harbor Advisory Board that he would be in favor of halting off the plans for various improvements already adopted should the people fail to authorize the issuance of more bonds—at least enough to meet the cost of fulfilling the pre-consolidation pledges.

The Harbor Commission decided yesterday to attend in a body the public hearing before Lieut. Col. McKinstry at Redondo Beach tomorrow morning on the preliminary discussion of the subject of government aid in the improvement of that harbor.

"Dry" Zone Talk Today.

One of the subjects that will go before the City Council today will be the further consideration of the "dry" zone project for Wilmington and Pedro. In addition to the dozen or more petitions previously filed, asking the petitioners that their petitions be filed with the City Clerk today, in order to go before the Council today, using action on the same grounds as previously outlined.

These three petitions have 257 signatures. One is from thirty-two persons, and the other two have the names of 217 voters, and the third has the names of 166 women over 21 years of age but who are not registered.

These petitions were circulated by Rev. P. H. Hickman, who is leading the campaign in San Pedro, and he has 1,684,000 cubic yards of earth will be necessary to fill the Huntington concession as the development of this area is to be planned in connection with the Standard American Dredging Company for filling a portion of this area will require about 1,196,000 cubic yards of earth.

The City Engineers estimated that the wharves, sheds, railroads, tracks, arsenals, etc., exclusive of dredging and filling, on the municipal dock, if built on the plans approved by the Harbor Advisory Board, will cost $715,628.

If the filling contract is completed without the dredging of the channel on the east side of the Huntington concession the cost of the entire improvement contemplated should be about $965,628.

In addition, the dredging of the channel on the east side is done, under the option with the Standard American Dredging Company, the total cost should be about $1,065,528. If both channels and the slip are dredged the total cost of the comprehensive improvements will be about $1,115,738.

As it is imperative for the city to take care of the payments for property condemned at Timms' Point, and to be condemned north of Fourth street—the former for Warehouse sites and the latter as a portion of the proposed harbor highway—and as other expenses must be met, such as the city's portion of the cost of paving Pacific boulevard, etc., the subject of finances is becoming a painful one for the members of the Harbor Advisory Board.

It is probable that a bond proposition will be submitted as soon after the opening of the coming year as is possible. Under the city's contract with Speyer & Co., purchasers of the aqueduct power bonds, no more bonds can be issued or sold this year.

The suit of the Irrigation Company of Pomona against the San Antonio Water Company, involving water rights, is set for trial in Judge Conroy's court, October 1. It is scheduled for eight weeks and promises to be a royal fight. The area involved covers 10,000 acres, and the point at stake is whether the Irrigation Company is estopped from taking the water because it did not object to the fact that the San Antonio Water Company has a proprietary right, it alleges Stephens & Stephens and Wm. Haas represent the Irrigation Company. One of the partners of San Bernardino is counsel for the San Antonio people.

Another big suit scheduled before Judge Finlayson October 1 is the action brought by B. F. Cheney against C. A. Canfield and set for four weeks. Cheney, who is a Boston man, heavily involved in the Santa Fe, is a stockholder of the Mexican Petroleum Company and is seeking to recover stock sold for non-payment of assessment.

The expenditures necessary on condemnation awards were considered by the board and the Board of Public Works was recommended to pay into the Superior Court the $341,000 awarded on the condemnation of lands at Timms' Point.

Special Counsel Hewitt reported that the awards on the condemnation of lands north of Fourth street, necessary for the harbor boulevard scheme, were to be settled by tomorrow.

The appraisers have almost two months on this work. Provision for the payment of these awards must be made within thirty days after they are announced or the decree is issued.

The City Engineer was instructed to prepare plans and specifications for the section of wharf necessary to be built at the foot of Fries street, to connect with the present municipal wharf, and to provide plans for construction of bulkheads from stations 426 to 429, on lands now in litigation, upon the stipulation that if the litigants won their suit against the city, they will pay for the cost of these bulkheads.

DISCRIMINATION.

An automobile owner suggests that drivers of machines should make a practice of stopping and giving weary pedestrians a lift along the road. But that would leave nobody to run over.

THE LOST CAUSE.

The president of the American Bar Association condemns the judiciary and the next edition of the Outlook will propose him for membership in the Ananias Club and for other honors.

DIFFICULTY.

The effort to stop race-track gambling in a city where there is no race track and there are no race horses and no gamblers reminds one of the joy of doing nothing and of thinking nothing while you are doing it.

SENSATIONAL.

Another government bureau has made a report after a study of ten years to the effect that the prices of products seem to be going up. This will serve as a sort of official confirmation of the suspicions of persons who have a habit of going to the market.

RIGHT THERE.

It is said that if Roosevelt could be elected he would send Lillian Russell's husband to the Court of St. James in spite of the well-known aversion of England's royalty to divorcees. Well, Lillian is a true Progressive, even to the extent of progressive matrimony.

UNFAIR.

To enable an Italian opera troupe to open its engagement at San Francisco a benevolent citizen pledged the custom officials that the singers would return proper personal declarations of their effects if their trunks were released. There should be no duty on spaghetti when it is accompanied by grand opera.

GAIN.

A President Sprout of the Southern Pacific has just built another new passenger depot for Los Angeles. This should be stopped by injunction, popular petition or direct action. So many new passenger depots have been built in this city in the last year alone that a famine of floor space is threatened in all of the best districts. It is all right for the railroads to boost a growing metropolis which is making them rich, but they have no right to abuse the good will of the public by building a new passenger depot on every street corner just because the railway magnates get restless and have nothing else to do.

IMMIGRANTS FROM THE MEDITERRANEAN.

The Pacific Coast does not get many European immigrants. There were in the United States, in 1910, 13,245,545 white persons of foreign birth. Five million of these arrived in this country since 1900. Of these only 1,147,458, or 22 per cent., found their way to the country lying south of the Ohio and west of the Mississippi Rivers, and of these so few crossed the Sierras that in compiling the census returns their movements were not considered.

The completion of the Panama Canal will be followed by an exodus of people from Portugal, Spain, Italy and Greece, who will make San Pedro their destination. The growers of fruit will be enabled to obtain an ample supply of orchard hands.

PRENUPTIAL CONTRACT.

Is not the whole country getting somewhat overzealous about the signing of a prenuptial contract by two young people in Southern California? Such an agreement may please the passing fancy of a boy and a girl, but it has no weight at all whenever it conflicts with legal statutes. Young Mr. and Mrs. Washburn are married, not by any prenuptial contract, but according to the fixed law of the State of California. Nor can the knot be untied except by the fixed law on the statute book of this or some other State.

Like many other little girls and boys who take themselves too seriously they have tried to be in advance of their age; like all discoverers of new and startling truths they are 2000 years behind it. The prenuptial contract was simply a dramatic method employed by two very young persons for expressing publicly their youthful views on the world-old problem of married life.

SPLITTING HAIRS.

Of course the world is not really a globe, though every one speaks of it as such. No more is an apple literally round, though it is near enough so to fit the shape of the mouth. In a normal man the heart should be in the center of the body, but for generations it has been crowded over to the left side by the abnormal liver. Yet we should deem that man a splitter of hairs who caviled at the use of the word "globe" to describe this earth, or took umbrage at us for calling an apple round, or the heart the center of the human system.

When a cause or a political party or a logical policy have left no loophole open for direct attack its opponents suddenly find that the supporters of that party or policy have been wickedly guilty of calling the world a globe or an apple round. They suddenly discover how very dreadful is that the heart is no longer in the exact middle of the body, and demand that the liver be kept within better bounds. They declare that, if they had the regulating of the human anatomy, the heart should be forcibly dragged back to a central position and the liver violently reduced. Which of course would kill the patient.

Such are the present efforts of a disgruntled, heterogeneous minority to discredit the wonderful success and general prosperity throughout the whole country that has followed an unbroken course of many years under a definite Republican policy. The worst pessimist cannot deny that Uncle Sam's system is in a vigorous condition, that health prevails in every part of the body politic. So the detractors blame the good Republican tonic and declare it ineffective because the heart is not quite in the center of the body and because people call the world a globe when it is really flattened at the poles like an orange. Yet this old world is not nearly so flattened at the "poles" as the Bull Moose and Democrats will be next November.

In their desperation the foes of continued prosperity use every contradictory argument that can be imagined to attack the Grand Old Party. They blame protection because it has protected too well and because it hasn't protected at all. They cry that it has made America richer by making her citizens poorer. As though the whole could be increased by reducing its parts. They accuse President Taft of attempting too much and not attempting enough. He fought the trust evil with the first weapon that came to his hand—and he was too slow; he should have fashioned a new weapon of attack which would have entailed a further delay and given the trusts more time to strengthen their defenses. They object to his attempts to bring about universal peace by arbitration and, after doing their best to thwart his efforts, sneer because he refuses to arbitrate a purely domestic matter like the regulating of our own waterways.

So the cackling chorus proceeds. Taft is at once too belligerent and too peaceful. Too peaceful because an American army has not already occupied the City of Mexico; too belligerent because Madero has been served with an ultimatum to protect American lives. The Bull Moose uses the argument that they have not been fighting the trusts. The Democrats hunt for subversives among the farmers and laborers to attack the Republican party because they have been protecting these same farmers and laborers.

So they rail against the good tonic administered by the G.O.P. And none of them have any specific to offer in its stead, more liable to reduce the liver or relieve the heart. At present the world is sufficiently globular and an apple is nearly round as need be, without calling on violent measures to rectify these trifling mathematical inaccuracies. The only reason—when all the complaints are balled down—why the Republican party should be ousted from power is because it has been too successful and too rich. So pu'erle are the petty attacks of its paradoxical opponents.

THE PASSING OF PERSIA.

"In that delightful Province of the Sun, The first of Persian lands he shines upon, Where, all the loveliest children of his beam, Flowerlets and fruits blush over every streak."

There is where Sergius Sazanoff, the Russian Foreign Minister, who represents the larcenous qualities of the Czar, and Sir Edward Grey of the highway-robery department of the British Foreign Office have located the scene of their proposed joint study and division of defenseless Persia.

Five years ago Britain and Russia signed a "convention for the maintenance of Persia's independence and integrity. Each power reserved to itself a 'sphere of influence' in Persia. A 'sphere of influence' sounds well. It means, to begin with, that in the 'sphere' allotted to England only British traders should be permitted to vend their wares, and in the sphere taken by the only Muscovite goods should be favored. A taste for vodka would be cultivated on one side of the line, and a fondness for bitter beer encouraged on the other side.

It has taken but five years for each "sphere of influence" to develop into a sphere of seizure. Each bandit nation now agrees to draw a line across the middle of Persia. One side of the line will henceforth be a part of "holy" Russia, either those in armed rebellion or those in arms in favor of the government, have inflicted upon persons or property of American citizens there must come a day of payment.

But the Senator deplored haste. He said frankly that his party expected to elect a Democratic Congress and a Democratic President. But if there should be a war with Mexico or "something of that kind to divert public attention from the issues that are now uppermost in the minds of the American people there is no telling what may happen." "There is," said the Senator, "a very general feeling that possibly something of the kind may develop between now and the first of November; and if we should have a war with Mexico, possibly the well-founded anticipation of the Democrats will be disappointed, because war is something which generally claims the public mind, occupies their thoughts, diverts their attention and warps their judgment.

"I do not know," continued the Senator, "whether the State Department, which now

CONCERNING SMILES.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Have you learned the art of correct smiling? Ah, but mes amis, it is most important, every situation in life must be at with its appropriate smile if one is a wretched person, skilled in the art.

Time was when the novelist was content to endow his heroine with a "light silver laugh" for all ordinary occasion, with perhaps a shade more for all that changed now. The modern heroine is called upon to form an "incurable smile, full of mystery," a "mocking smile of evil intent," a "joyous smile, replete with the joie de vivre," a "smile that betokens the harmony of souls" (that must be a bit of a poser) and the "smile of unutterable scorn."

Be she a stage heroine, poor dear, she is likewise required to be frequently photographed with the tooth-paste smile—an important source of income to the average actress.

One of the most difficult smiles to acquire is the modern society smile. It must be attuned to such delicate perfection, it must convey just so much and not a shade more, it must welcome while it keeps at a distance, it must encourage while it repels, it must suggest cordiality while maintaining a superb indifference, and above all, it must be the embodiment of culture, elegance, family pride, exclusiveness.

It takes a little practice, but it can be done. Sometimes a particular dress or hat will fit it out, and a discreet insinuation of diamonds and old lace deftly introduced into the toilette, which should, preferably, have been imported, will invariably enable the wearer to rise to the necessary perfection in society smiles.

But in any case, without that smile, any ambition you may entertain of becoming a society leader is quite hopeless. By their smile ye shall know them. Many of them spoil it with a faint atmosphere of uncertainty, an intangible lack of assurance. Quite fatal.

There are one or two other society smiles reserved; (1) for underlings and menials, (2) for the dear children on public occasions, (3) for titles and celebrities, and (4) for the woman with a finer gown than one's own.

One society lady of my acquaintance goes further, and reserves a special smile for hobby on social occasions, but this is, of course, inessential. When adopted, however, it should be inaugurated gradually, unless wife is quite sure her dressmaker excels in the designing of widows' weeds.

Quite distinct from the society smile is the smile of culture as exemplified in prolonged attendance to women's clubs and a perusal of John Masefield's latest. It is a smile that presupposes an infinite acquaintance with Masterlinch and George Meredith, a mild appreciation of Shaw in his later phases, a thoughtful regard for John Galsworthy, an amiable tolerance for Henry James, and cordial contempt for G. K. Chesterton.

G. K. is invariably interpolated with "I know" in all conversations bordering on the literary, particularly if there is reason to suppose that the rest of the company is lamentably deficient in modern culture.

The cultured smile is, in fact, the insignia of the literary aristocrat, almost invariably a female, but not unknown to the other sex. A superior smile, pleasantly condescending, effectively subduing.

Smiles that can be brought into daily use by the common people are fortunately abundant and highly effective. The scornful smile finds most favor with department-store ladies, hair-shampoo fairies and car conductors, while smiles of exquisite resignation can be seen daily on the countenances of postoffice clerks, box office porters, bank officials and domestic help. An interesting detached smile is also to be observed upon the faces of motormen, golf caddies, mail deliverers, and incense, while the smile of youth radiates from the chauffeur who only just escaped the annoyance of the obstruction of your person in his line of route.

Personally, I have a great weakness for the brave smile. There is scope for such finesse in a smile like that. With moderate skill you can convey to a sympathetic and admiring world that you are a beautiful Christian martyr inflicted with all the most damnable luck going—and just by a smile!

But a war conducted by a Democratic administration would be made by "Those whose swords are iron barriers. Between the lawless spoiler and the weak."

Our steamed Progressive contemporaries here are opposed to armed intervention in Mexico for the protection of the lives and property of American citizens for the same reason that animates the breast of the patriotic Bacon—that it might make votes for Taft. But while Bacon is candid enough to avow his motive, they avow that it is because intervention is demanded by predatory and unscrupulous persons.

of the Drama League of America will be held at 3 o'clock next Friday afternoon at Cummins Hall, No. 1500 South Figueroa street.

The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. E. T. Wilkes, Mrs. Frank Parmalee, Everett C. Maxwell and Bessie D. Stoddart.

A representative of one of the larger vaudeville circuits is in Los Angeles dickered with President Eddie Maier of the Maier Pleasure Pier at Venice in regard to erecting on the new $1,000,000 pier a first-class vaudeville house.

The theatrical promoter says his people will build a handsome fireproof theater on the Maier Pier, with a seating capacity of not less than 1800, provided a long-time lease is secured.

The many admirers of Mary Pickford, the leading lady of the photographic company, will enjoy the piano piece "Friends" now running at Tally's New Broadway. She monopolizes the screen throughout the picture, and assisted by other capable actors, makes a most delightful picture story of early days in California.

Pathé's Weekly presents the usual assortment of pictures from all corners of the world. Clarence Darroch is shown addressing the Labor Day parade in his new role as the small man between New York and Brooklyn. Woodrow Wilson and the burning of a champagne factory in France are some of the pictures. "A Gay Time in Quebec," "Life and Customs of the Minnehaha Indians," "Mrs. Tracy's Tragedy," and "The Edmonds Klamm Ravine in Switzerland" and the musical numbers complete a good bill.

The Musical Bentley, xylophone player, who introduce the Mirabrooks, "tame lions all hours of the New Century." This week, where they are the headliners with the Century road show No. 1. The programme in general is one of the best ever brought to this popularly popular vaudeville house. The tumbling by the piano number and the hand-dancing by Miss Elliott deserves special mention.

Man Asserting He's an Officer Grafts on Jap for Money. According to Laster's Story.

Interest in the alleged grafting by policemen, was intensified yesterday when S. Akita, proprietor of a Japanese barber shop and poolroom at No. 40½ North Main street, reported to Central Station detectives that he had "held up" for $15 by a man representing himself as a patrolman.

Akita told the police authorities that the man accused him of permitting gambling in his place, adding: "Give me $15, or I'll arrest and prosecute you."

The Japanese declared that the man disappeared, but he thought the police badge. Fearing that the man was an officer and that he would do as he threatened, Akita says he gave him the money.

BUSY MORNING. GREETING BY MANY WOMEN.

LARGE AUDIENCE AWAITED HIM IN AUDITORIUM.

After Discussing the Political Situation There He Goes to Naud Junction Among the Industrial Tollers—Crowds Cheer the Commoner During the Auto Parade.

Col. Bryan arrived at the Salt Lake Station at 7 o'clock in the morning and several hundred persons were awaiting him by the Mayors and their leaders.

As the train stopped at the station, little Elizabeth Frances McKinley, No. 3456 Dayton avenue, presented him with a bouquet of beautiful Los Angeles roses, which the young admirer had plucked before daylight. At his hotel the colonel found other blossoms in large quantities, and during the course of the parade he was bombarded with carna- nations.

Among those who received the visitor at the station were a number of women prominent in Democratic circles, including Miss Mary E. Foy, president of the Woman's State Democratic League; Mrs. Imogene Huey, State secretary; Mrs. W. C. Tyler, president of the local branch; Mrs. A. L. Stephens, first vice-president; Mrs. James Westphaling, second vice-president; Miss Musa Rawlings, secretary; Mrs. T. T. Loy, Miss Stella Kellmeyer, Mrs. Norman Lackland and Mrs. Drew Pease, president of the Friends' Mission Club.

At 8 o'clock, after Col. Bryan had donned his familiar alpaca coat and was ready for business, breakfast was served at the Alexandria. This was followed by a series of political and social arrangements.

Those present were Mattison B. Jones, A. L. Stephens, D. E. Fulwilder, the Mayor, W. H. Portfield, L. B. Dockwiler, Milton K. Young, W. P. Anderson, T. E. Spelacy, Mrs. A. M. Cottier, T. E. Spelacy, Miss Mary E. Foy, Miss Musa Rawlings, Mrs. Charles P. Huey, Mrs. B. A. Davis, Mrs. James Westphaling, Mrs. C. Tyler, Mrs. Norman Lackland, Mrs. C. C. Clegg, Mrs. T. Loy, Mrs. Draw Pruitt, Loren A. Handley, D. C. McCann, Harrington Brown, and others. During the breakfast, Col. Bryan discussed in a most optimistic manner the political and social scene, and as he finds them on the swing around the circle, began a week ago in Denver, and which will continue almost until election day. It is the first visit Bryan has made to Los Angeles in years and it astonished him in his hurried drives from meeting to meeting.

After breakfast the colonel received for a short time the hon. Mayor, Tim Spallacy and Prof. Kirk. At 10 o'clock the automobile parade—about forty machines—started through a throng which nearly blocked Fifth street, which the colonel said, was a feature which recurred almost constantly along the route. Col. Bryan made a two-minute talk to the crowd at the hotel, and another at the theater, and then went to the Auditorium to cheer him when he reached that place, where the first of the formal speeches was to be delivered to men in classes but the red and white, carnations, hearts and cupids having been gracefully combined.

Has Returned. Otto F. Birk, who has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. Louis Lucel of Oneonta Park, has returned to his home in Indianapolis, Ind.

The Country Clubs.

Things are beginning to look much brighter at the country clubs with the recent opening of Del Monte.

At the Los Angeles Country Club. On Saturday there was a reunion of the members of the club.

At the Glendale Country Club. Mrs. W. C. Tyler made a speech in which she expressed the hope that Bryan's silver tongue would be tipped with diamonds. Then the crowd yelled "Hooray" and another at the theater.

At the Glendale Country Club. The quartette sang a campaign song urging the advisability of getting back into the country clubs with a round of clapping which would have been a decided success.

BEAUTY HINT: A new line of toilet specialties, recently of the reliable houses, has especially satisfactory toilet products. Refreshing and dainty, the toilet waters are to use about the person, having a lasting delicacy and a sweet, overpowering fragrance when first used which is in many perfumes.

I chanced to sit clever at the art, for she wore a solemn face.

As to Shoes.

"Now, Olive, tell me honestly, what would you get in the way of shoes this fall if you were in my place?"
asked one of the girls, so be-searching a way that I felt as though I really ought to consider the matter with fasting and prayer. Now let me see. If I meant to have many pairs, it would not matter so awfully much which I bought first, but sooner or later I would have a really fine pair of black shoes, and that is a great concession to the domination of fashion, for I think black shoes extremely commonplace unless they are otherwise. But black shoes are very much in this year. Patent leathers or those with patent vamps probably take the lead in dressy or semi-dressy shoes, or rather boots, for it should be boots for fall, except, of course, indoors. While black sal-suits and velvets are still worn, they are worn only as a rule, with matching suits or gowns. Black is so very good this season in all manner of garments that even tan shoes, many times, have black vamps or black tips or stitching of fancy fabric, such as whipcord or satin in black and gray, are a novelty and look very well, as also do boots with tan vamps and brown cloth tips. The latter, however, should be worn only with matching suits or suits which correspond.

Fashion's Confidences.

The newest lace veils have leaf designs. Even in velvet, corded effects are in favor.

Antique jewelry is more than ever yellow in all shades prominent to be favorites.

Metal trimmings are one of the new features.

Stocks extremely popular for between-season millinery.

Evening slippers with ornamental heels are very charming.

Braid is used in limited quantities on old and new suits.

Black is far the most desirable color for separate wraps.

Gold and silver shadow laces are among the autumn novelties.

Nearly all the new fall fashions are noticeable for the soft effects.

Stocks with white lace lace are in great favor.

It is certain that more will be seen in autumn tailor-mades.

SEEKING A MOTIVE.

An inquest will not be held over the body of Miss Isabelle Olive, 36 years old, a music teacher of Georgetown, Tex., who cut her throat with a razor, Sunday afternoon, in her residence, No. 9127 Main street.

The coroner said he was satisfied it was a case of suicide. The latter will however, conduct an investigation in an effort to ascertain why the woman left the city.

How About This?
JOHNSON TO GET BIG SUM.

Offered a President's Salary for Two Fights.

McIntosh Wants Him to Meet Sam Langford.

Black Champion May Decide to Remain at Home.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES]
CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Final arrangements for the proposed heavyweight championship match between Jack Johnson and Sam Langford, to be staged in Australia on Boxing Day, December 26, are expected to be made tomorrow when W. C. J. Kelly, representative of the Antipodean Club, seeking the bout, returns to Chicago from New York. Johnson said tonight that he expected to sign with Kelly and in all probability will leave Chicago shortly that he may have time to become acclimated before the battle.

When Kelly was in Chicago about a week ago he did not approach Johnson because of the latter's belief that he would talk business on the return from New York. Kelly declared that he was authorized by Hugh McIntosh, Australian promoter, to offer Johnson $50,000 for two battles, this amount to include training expenses of the champion. At that time Johnson intimated he would accept the offer, but when McIntosh hinted tonight, however, that he would ask for more money, he asserted that he has a good paying business which is bringing him a steady income; that he is not interested in more, that is, he is tired of training and that he might hold out for more than $50,000 for the trip to Australia. The title-holder agreed that the amount was tempting but he thought he could get more.

Kelly, when last here said that McIntosh had given him the original offer. Johnson according to Kelly, must accept McIntosh's offer or else quit the game for good.

GIANTS NEED FOUR GAMES TO BE SAFE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES]
NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The meeting of the National Baseball Commission scheduled for Wednesday in this city to arrange for the world series with the idea that by that time it would be definitely known what clubs would be contenders, probably will find the National League race still undecided to a mathematical certainty.

The New York Giants now need four games to assure them positively the National League pennant and the only way in which they can will that now be the National Commission.

The release of Stone by Ogden to the St. Louis Americans was set aside.

GREAT WELCOME FOR BOSTON RED SOX.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES]

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The Boston club returned home from the West today to a great welcome of the American League to one of the greatest welcoming demonstrations ever accorded an athletic team in this city. Great crowds lined the mile of city streets through which the players passed in automobiles to Boston, where the welcome was formally made. Business was temporarily stopped all along the line while thousands of workers thronged the windows.

The common welcome was official as well as popular. Mayor John F. Fitzgerald presided and gave the keys of the city to the team, no member of which owns Boston as his home. In addition to the other speakers, the Mayor expressed the hope and belief that the team would be victorious in the world's series in October.

Major "Jack" Stahl, responding in behalf of the club, said:

"This great demonstration will be an inspiration to us in the games ahead."

All the other players appeared and expressed their thanks for the welcome.

BIG ATHLETIC MEET FOR NEW Y.M.C.A. FIELD.

Next Friday and Saturday there will be a big programme staged at the new Y.M.C.A. athletic field in honor of the opening of the new clubhouse that has recently completed.

On Friday night the directors of the local association will have a house warming in the new structure. Saturday morning the boys and juniors of the Y.M.C.A. will give an exhibition of gymnasium work. The big card, however, will be played in the afternoon. The Occidental College varsity football team will be pitted against the Long Beach High School eleven in the first American game of the local season.

Saturday evening the clubhouse will be thrown open to the public, and there will be a band concert rendered by the musical aggregation from the Y.M.C.A. Dean Cromwell, who will act as master of ceremonies on this game, says that all these attractions will be free and that he hopes to see half the sporting public of the city there.

There are four games at the outdoor field of the Y.M.C.A. this season. Besides the usual baseball, tennis and track sports, Cromwell has two fast football teams under way, and will be ready in a few weeks to play games with some of the local high school eleven.

LACROSSE DRAWS BETTER THAN BASEBALL HERE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

NEW WESTMINSTER (B. C.) then available in the East. Among the early members of the New Westminster team was Tom Clifford. He is long since retired from lacrosse and represents the city in the Provincial Legislature, but the family is still worthily represented on the field.

British Columbia is now in the midst of the greatest tumult that has ever been stirred up over the Canadian national game and the fans are getting few inklings of the real cost of their favorite sport.

For the past few years there have been but two teams in the British Columbia Professional League, Vancouver and New Westminster. This city relies upon its home players—boys who learned the game here and have stuck to it since their playdays. Four years ago, another brother, Jimmy, entered the ranks, and he is now picked as the greatest defense player in the city. Two weeks ago, the fourth brother to make the team, Hugh, turned out, and he gives promise of being another star.

The Clifford team is not the only one that has contributed to the athletic life of the city. The two Shaw brothers are stars and another brother is now playing intermediate and will be ripe for senior company soon. The two Turnbull brothers are stars, but so relative of the Salmonbeaches, as the local team is known, were practically unbeatable. Last year Con Jones, the Vancouver magnate, determined that New Westminster must be beaten and he imported the best players from East Canada to add to the star men of the old Vancouver team.

In a rattling hard season the Vancouver won the championship, and the New Westminster had also the championship. Vancouver got double honors. This year the local backers determined to win back the cup. So far six games have been played in the series of ten, and of these New Westminster has won four and Vancouver two.

The rivalry between the two cities is intense. That of Minneapolis for St. Paul or of Seattle for Tacoma can not compare with the scrappy feeling between the Terminal and Royal cities.

Two weeks ago today Vancouver defeated New Westminster on the latter's grounds by a score of 5 to 2. At one stage of the game, Referee H. R. Nichols, Vancouver, had five New Westminster players on the fence for rough tactics. After the game the fans rushed for the referee and the police had to protect him with drawn revolvers.

This act seemed to intensify the feelings between the two cities. The newspapers began to take a hand and quite a row was stirred up. The Lacrosse Commission, which is to the Canadian game what the national commission is to baseball, suspended and fined players on both teams.

Vancouver was to play here last Saturday. The advance reservations indicated an attendance of 15,000. The referee, however, the Acting Manager of New Westminster, who is also the manager of that lacrosse team, announced that owing to the unfair criticism of his team in the Vancouver newspapers and in numerous sets to other local Vancouver newspapers, he would not permit the team to play that game.

All week there has been a storm. The Vancouver players all have come to town, and the fans have come for some pretty stiff wages. Without New Westminster the Vancouver have no opponents unless teams are imported from Eastern Canada. The season there is not yet ended and it is to be expected that Vancouver newspapermen, he would not permit the team to play that game.

The referee, however, the Acting Manager of New Westminster, who is also the manager of that lacrosse team, announced that owing to the unfair criticism of his team in the Vancouver newspapers and in numerous sets to other local Vancouver newspapers, he would not permit the team to play that game.

New Westminster is not so badly off as its neighboring city. The majority of the players are half-breed Indians in the city, and the prestige of the team, which extends back over a period of twenty years, will enable it to play exhibition games between two halves of its own players and draw a audience that will meet the demand.

The possession of the Minto Cup, emblematic of the world's championship, may have to be determined by the commission, and the intricacy of the franchise liable to continue for years.

What will become of the high-salaried players is another matter that must be settled. A professional lacrosse team plays from two to five thousand dollars a year, and the pay roll for each team will amount to about $25,000 for the season. A team consists of twelve men, but usually two or three spares are carried.

Tom LaLonde, captain of the Vancouver team, is probably the best paid athlete in the world. His stipend for fifteen games amounts to $5,000. Tommy Burns, the former heavyweight champion of the world, has a contract with the Vancouver team, which calls for $1,000 a game, but Tommy is seldom called upon to play. LaLonde winter and spring as much again as also plays professional hockey in the off season.

Stipend of the Toronto team is reported to receive $4,500 per season for playing lacrosse, while several members of the New Westminster team have received season contracts in the past, calling for $350 and expenses. The local players work on a small salary and a percentage of the profits, and each averages close to $4,000 for the season. Figuring fifteen games and eight minutes of play in each, it will be seen that the best players get paid fancy figures for their work.

The New Westminster players, born and raised right here, arrived here in 1885, when the Vancouver-New Westminster rivalry in lacrosse started. The cities imported the best players

MONEY ORDERS BY THE MILLIONS.

GOVERNMENT METHODS OF KEEPING ACCOUNTS.

Simplified Scheme Developed by Auditor So that Machines May Be Used—Otherwise Each Order Has to Be Handled Nine Times Before the Account is Closed.

[Washington Star:] A complete revolution has been effected in the method of auditing the $6,000,000 money orders sent annually to the auditor for the Postoffice Department by the use of mechanical electrical devices, with almost human ingenuity, which has been devised by A. Kram, auditor of the Treasury for the Postoffice Department. The new system has reduced the expense of running the office $200,000 annually, and Mr. Kram is so enthusiastic over its successful operation he predicts it will render additional clerical assistance unnecessary for many years to come.

So far as the public is concerned, it is a very simple matter to procure a money order and to have it cashed. The application for an order consists of a simple application giving particulars, together with the amount of the remittance and a few cents for fees. He receives a little blue slip of paper with a receipt. The slip is sent to the payee, who presents it at the postoffice where it is cashed, and the transaction is at an end.

Two records of the transaction, however, are sent to the auditor for the Postoffice Department, one from the issuing postmaster, giving the particulars of the issue, another from the paying postmaster in the form of a receipt, and the auditor and claim for reimbursement for the amount named in the money order.

DRESS FOR WAGE EARNERS.

Should Be Simple and Reflect Her Character and Ability—White Wash Waists Should Not Be Ornate.

[New York Times:] While all worth-while women work today, there is a large set who, working for their living, must dress according to their environment. It is unfortunate that they do not follow the lead of the women who work for social betterment instead of wages; they are too prone to buy a thing that cannot last.

The rules for the dress of a wage-earner are simple and easily mastered if the wage-earner will only take the situation seriously and learn the rules of the game. True, every woman can have a style of her own, but the woman does not know the knack of putting on clothes to their best advantage, but this is as true of the woman with money as it is of the woman who must economize.

After all, the clothes of the worker should reflect her character and ability. She may argue that they do not, as just now, but this was not the reason for it and no place to start in.

This once-powerful agent, now a souvenir, was purchased at public auction by J. S. Holden, editor of the Fl. Gibson Post, more as a matter of sentiment than for any other reason. He paid $151 for it, which was more than any one else would bid. Time was when Cherokee politicians would have paid hundreds of times that much merely to have controlled its policy.

The Cherokee Advocate was first published in New York, Ga., prior to the migration of the Cherokees to Indian territory in 1836. Elias Boudinot, then editor, was its first editor. Its mission was to disseminate the teachings of the Bible and further Christianity among the Cherokee people.

When the Cherokee moved to Indian territory the plant of the Cherokee Advocate was brought along, just as if it were a part of the records of the nation, but it was not until 1851 that its publication was resumed.

It was over the winter of 1850-51 that the Cherokee Advocate was again published, with Elias Boudinot as editor.
